El Paso Managing Partner Carmen Perez Honored as Hispano Triunfador

McDonald's recently honored Carmen Perez, El Paso Office Managing Partner, as a Hispano Triunfador in the area of community service. Carmen works tirelessly on behalf of El Paso and surrounding communities.

Carmen is a staunch supporter of her alma mater, the Lydia Patterson Institute in El Paso. She was honored by the school in 1998 as a "Distinguished Alumna" in recognition of her outstanding work as an attorney and serves on the school's board of directors. She serves on the Board of Directors for Gigi's Playhouse El Paso, an organization dedicated to providing therapeutic and educational programs at no cost to children with Down syndrome. She is a member of CommUNITY En Accion, where she is active in organizing the annual Young Achievers' Forum, a program dedicated to giving El Paso 6th graders a college day experience. Carmen previously served as a Private Sector Representative to the Upper Rio Grande Workforce Development Board. She also served on the boards of the United Way, the Hispanic Leadership Institute and the El Paso Child Guidance Center.

"I'm very honored to receive this recognition as a Hispano Triunfador," Carmen said. "The work I do on behalf of the El Paso community and its residents is so satisfying and gratifying on its own that any recognition I receive helps mainly to amplify my message on the importance of community service."

McDonald's recognized Hispano Triunfadores at an event that celebrated Hispanic Heritage Month. They were honored for their successes, their work in the community and for serving as role models for young people.
